

Houghton Department BOOSTERS PLAN COLLEGE PLAY IRON RIVER TRIP MONDAY NIGHT

Businessmen Arranging Excursion to Western Part of Peninsula

Copper country businessmen, numbering about one hundred, are planning a "boosters" excursion to Iron River at a near date and preparations for what will be the biggest efforts to advertise Houghton county that ever have been made have begun. Secretary George L. Price of the Copper Country Commercial club is in charge of the arrangements and he is receiving the support of every member of the organization, as well as businessmen who are not affiliated with the club. The object of the trip is to bring about a feeling of co-operation between the businessmen of Houghton and Iron counties.

A special Copper Range train will convey the party, which, according to present plans, will spend about four hours at Iron River. The train will leave Calumet about 7 a. m. and return about 3 p. m.

ESCANABA BANDIT CAPTURED.

Joe Parent Taken at Nestoria—Still on Train of Smith.

Joe Parent, the villain of the San Luis robbery who had succeeded in evading the Delta county officers for many days, was caught at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at Nestoria by Sheriff T. J. Curran, of Escanaba, and Tom Thomas, of Champion. He was shot and made no resistance. "Coke Smith," his partner, is still at large, and is supposed to be hiding in the woods between Champion and Nestoria. It is expected that the posse will locate him.

The capture of Parent is an incident in one of the most sensational man-hunts that has ever taken place in the upper peninsula. For more than a week these two bandits had baffled the pursuing officers while hiding in the swampy north woods, and for a time no trace of them could be found. Wednesday, the Delta county officers were placed on a track-trail near Kates, on the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railway and this resulted in discovery that the bandits had made their way to Champion and vicinity.

The defendants express the belief that their former partners will tell the truth and will vindicate them of the charges.

Attorney Hamberger who has been retained by the defendants is confident that the new evidence is so admitted when the new evidence is admitted Tuesday.

WILL URGE NEW REFORMATORY

Ferris to Ask Legislature for New Home for Women

Lansing, Mich., April 25.—Following a conference with the state board of corrections and charities and the board of control of industrial school for girls at Adrian, Gov. Ferris announced that he would ask the next legislature to provide funds for the erection of a reformatory for women.

The governor says the only place where women may be imprisoned for offenses at present are the county jails and the Detroit house of correction. The reformatory at Jackson, Ionia and Marquette do not accept women prisoners and the chief executive is convinced that it is time that Michigan followed the lead of other progressive states and provide a place where women may be imprisoned apart from men prisoners. It is pointed out that the erection of a reformatory exclusively for women would do much to relieve the overcrowded condition of the Detroit house of correction. It also would be a great boon to the industrial school for girls, as the governor says there are girls in that institution who should be separated from other offenders.

The governor also has gone on record as favoring a radical change in affairs at the Adrian school. As soon as the farm colony of Walden is completed, many of the epileptics will be taken from the latter institution, and this will give the board an opportunity to take some of the so-called mentally defective from Adrian and transfer them to Lapeer.

Gov. Ferris says that hereafter girls committed to the Adrian school will not be turned out to their former homes, but will be provided with good places in new surroundings. No more will the schoolrooms at that school remain locked during school hours, and Gov. Ferris says that the teaching staff may be changed.

Your communications are fully appreciated by the citizens of Chicago, and in view of this they have voted five million dollars in bonds for an outer harbor, work upon which will begin this season.

TRAINING PROVIDENCE TEAM.

Jimmy Duggan, Formerly of Houghton, on Staff of Eastern League.

Jimmy Duggan, former trainer of the Portage Lake hockey team and at one time a boxer, is now trainer for the Providence, R. I., baseball team of the Eastern League. Regarding his success, the Providence Journal contains the following:

"The vixen is happy and contented. They've been catered to with as much care as if they were big leaguers and prospective world's series contenders, and they've got a trainer in Jimmy Duggan who is as good if not better than any handler in the fastest company in the land."

Jimmy is a great little trainer, and because he is all this and a whole lot besides, his heart and soul is in the work of rubbing the pestiferous little knots out of arms, legs, shoulders and any other part of the anatomy that rebels against being worked and strained from three to sometimes six hours per day. The moans and groans of the stricken gladiators are as music from golden harps to his ears. The louder the grunts the harder and fiercer Jimmy punches, jabs and prods.

Jimmy never waits for the athletes to come to him. He is not built that way. The minute a player rushes into the dressing room after the two-mile hike from the ball yard, Jimmy jerks off his sweater, pulls off the shirt, and begins noosing round for knots and bruises.

Almost Every War in Which the United States Engaged Was Started in Month of April

April has always been Uncle Sam's favorite month for getting into martial trouble.

History merely repeats herself when April—and particularly the present fortnight in April—becomes the theater wherein Mexico and the United States reach the climax of long disagreement.

There is something almost supernatural about the part April has played in the American calendar of war and near-war.

Nor is the weird emphasis of the coincidence lessened by our present experience.

The president's policy of "watchful waiting" ran through an entire cycle of the months—undisturbed, uninterrupted and unshaken—until it stumbled into April.

And April again proves to be the fatal month beyond which we cannot pass without unlimbering the batteries of war.

This fact upon which we comment is really one of the most interesting and striking of all phenomena in American history.

The observer who casts a bird's-eye view across the "high spots" in the nation's history cannot but be struck with the remarkable parallel.

On Sunday, April 19, 1914, breaking with Mexico.

On Monday, April 20, presenting a war problem to the congress.

An on Tuesday, April 21, witnessed the arrival of the Atlantic squadron in battle trim off the shore of Tampico.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-NINE YEARS ago Sunday the American revolution opened. April 15 was the anniversary of Major Pitcairn's midnight march from Boston, of Captain Parker's immortal stand on the commons at Lexington; of the battle at the Cohoc bridge, where was fired the "shot heard around the world."

EIGHTY-THREE YEARS ago the short but sanguinary Black Hawk Indian war began and Uncle Sam tried the mettle of his sons in conflict with the Red Men.

SIXTY-EIGHT YEARS ago on Friday the first shots were fired in our first war with Mexico on April 24, 1846; and sixty-eight years ago next Sunday the first American losses were yielded to the enemy of the South when a company of American dragoons under Captain Thornton was attacked by a body of Mexicans THIS side of the Rio Grande and obliged to surrender.

Incidental to this particular phase of the anniversary calendar, it is equally interesting to note that April is likewise the month in which the deadly Santa Anna was defeated and the tide of the first Mexican war turned.

HOUGHTON BREVITIES.

NEW SUFFRAGE BODY WILL OPPOSE MILITANT METHODS

"Pankhurst Must Go" Motto of Organization Formed by Outcasts of Woman's Social and Political Union.

London, April 25.—The "Pankhurst must go" promises to be the rallying cry of a new suffragette organization formed by leaders who believe woman's cause has suffered a setback by the practice of the leading militant society. A significant feature of the new movement is that it is fathered by suffragists who were once strong supporters of militant tactics, but who, at various times, have been forced to withdraw from the Women's Social and Political Union.

The simmer of discontent, which now promises to break into revolt, began last year when Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pethick Lawrence on their return from Canada were informed that Mrs. Pankhurst no longer desired their services on the executive committee of the organization. This intimation was carried to the Lawrence before their last reached the dock. They were inclined at first to laugh at it as preposterous, but on landing they found that Mrs. Pankhurst had made herself so powerful during their absence that it would be hopeless to fight her edict without their aid.

As firm believers in the efficacy of militant tactics, the Lawrences did not shrink from the task. In the hope that the autocratic regime of the Pankhursts would advance the cause, which they held above all else. This true and the determination of the various constitutional societies not to criticize any tactics, which sought a common end, gave Mrs. Pankhurst and her daughter Christabel abundant time in which to perfect their organization, before opposition was offered to their autocratic sway. But the promised results did not materialize and now the Women's Social and Political Union faces both opposition without and dissension within.

While dismissing members of her personal staff, Mrs. Pankhurst has also been discharging privates in the ranks. One of these women, who was expelled from the organization last week, declared that she was dismissed on the most trivial pretext possible and that lately Mrs. Pankhurst had dismissed a number of the workers from the organization apparently through caprice. The dismissed member asserted that the militants are dwindling daily until at the present moment there are only 3000 active workers in the Women's Social and Political Union.

These women are subject to Mrs. Pankhurst's autocratic decrees, and may be called upon at any time to perform militant deeds. In spite of the dwindling number of workers the finances of the organization are said to be in an excellent state. This is due mainly to two Scottish spinster sisters, whose fortunes were made in an Atlantic steamship line. Their subscriptions to the funds of the militant fighting forces are heavy and unfailing.

Your Boy

First, ask your doctor about Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. Then use it or not, as he says.

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a strong tonic, entirely free from alcohol.
